

Fire Fighting

As members of the NFPA, we manufacture our Nomex[®], Kevlar[®], and other fire related webbings to the most current standards and are able to certify the materials through both in-house testing and independent outside testing.

Working on a confidential basis with you, our experienced design engineers customize webbings to provide the look, feel, and performance you demand.

Why Sturges?

- UL component recognized webbings
- Continuous process improvement to reduce your waste
- Custom samples woven to meet your deadline
